Grandparents' Day Celebration

On Friday the 11th of August, the students of Good Shepherd School and their families gathered together to celebrate our grandparents.

We started off the celebrations with a lovely mass in the church, followed by Fr Peter Tipene blessing our new turf and shade sail. When that was over the GSS PTA had organised a scrumptious bake sale and sizzly sausage sizzle. We all enjoyed the delicious treats that the families prepared for us and raised lots of money for our school.

While we were eating we could show our grandparents around our classrooms so they could see what we have been learning. We ended the celebrations with some entertaining performances by the school choir and the junior kapahaka, which were fantastic.

A special thank you to the PTA and teachers who put the day together. What a wonderful celebration of the amazing Good Shepherd School Grandparents.

Resilience

Resilience is the ability to bounce back from a setback.

Why is emotional resilience important?

Children need to cope with everyday feelings, both positive and negative, such as excitement, anticipation, frustration, and disappointment. All children experience stressful times in their lives, like preparing for tests or competitions. Some children have very upsetting things happen to them, such as parents separating, or death in the family. It is important for children to learn how to deal with such experiences.

Room 4 School Assembly tomorrow at 2.15pm. All welcome.
